CAUTION DURING USE

1. If you play for long periods, take a 10 to 15 minute break every hour or so.
2. This equipment is precision-built. Do not use or store it under conditions of extreme temperature, or subject it to rough handling or shock. Do not disassemble the unit.
3. Do not touch the connectors or let them come into contact with water, as this can cause malfunction.
4. Do not clean the game pak with volatile solvents such as thinner, benzene or alcohol.
5. Store the game pak in its protective sleeve when not in use.

WARNING: DO NOT USE WITH FRONT OR REAR PROJECTION TV

Do not use a front or rear projection television with your Nintendo Entertainment System® (NES) and NES games. Your projection television screen may be permanently damaged if video games with stationary scenes or patterns are played on your projection television. Similar damage may occur if you place a video game on hold or pause. If you use your projection television with NES games Nintendo will not be liable for any damage. This situation is not caused by a defect in the NES or NES games; other fixed or repetitive images may cause similar damage to a projection television. Please contact your TV manufacturer for further information.

THE GAME OF DARTS

The game of darts has a long and rich history. What began during the days of the Roman Empire has evolved into one of today's most popular leisure games. The original game began with a dart known to the Romans as a "pilum". A pilum was ten feet long and made of iron. The target was a running man. As mankind progressed, so did the game of Darts.

In Old English, dart translates as "daroth, daruth and dagger". But many believe that the modern game of darts actually came from medieval archery. King Harold of England was killed in 1066 at the Battle of Hastings when an arrow pierced his eye.

Legend has it that the Pilgrim Fathers threw darts as they came to the New World in 1620. They called the game "Butts". They threw shortened arrows at the butt of a wine cask. The center of the butt counted for five points, and the surrounding areas graded down to zero.

The first reference to darts as we know it today was in the early 1900s. During World War II many soldiers played darts and brought the game to their home towns. Darts rapidly spread to pubs and taverns. Tournaments and leagues were quickly established.

In the 1970s the use of tungsten darts and corporate sponsorship for televised dart competition brought the game into the home and hearts of men, women and children worldwide.

DART WEIGHT

Most darts today are made from brass and tungsten. Darts made with tungsten are smaller and heavier than those made only with brass. Nickel and copper are alloys that are commonly used with tungsten. The percentage of these alloys can be reflected in the price of the darts.

There are three basic dart designs, the torpedo, the straight-barreled and the center weight dart. Regardless of the shape, a dart must not exceed a maximum length of 12 inches or weigh more than 50 grams. Each dart consists of a needle-type point, which is fixed to a barrel. Attached to the rear of the barrel is a flighted stem which may consist of up to two separate pieces.

Our great-grandfathers threw wooden darts. The wooden darts is often called the French dart, and you still see them used today. A distinctive feature of the wooden dart is that the barrel and shaft are all one piece.

In MAGIC DARTS you can select your dart weight. You can choose from Light, Medium and Heavy.

RULES FOR EACH GAME MODE _____

There are six games to choose from. Each game has slightly different rules.

301

All players start with 301 points. The first player to reach 0 wins. Each dart score is deducted from the player's score. If you go under zero, the bust rule applies. The bust rule states that you must get the points you need without going below zero. For example, if you need 32 points and hit 35 - you bust. Sometimes it is called being "too hot". Your score would revert back to 32. Each player is allowed maximum of 20 sets of darts each.

501

Same rules as the 301 game except the players begin with 501 points.

701

Same rules as the 301 game except the players begin with 701 points.

COUNT UP

In count up, players compete for the high score. Each player gets eight sets of darts.

ROUND THE CLOCK

In Round the Clock the players must hit numbers one through ten. The first player to hit all numbers in sequence wins.

HALF IT

Players begin with 40 points. Players have three chances to hit the assigned numbers to add to their own score. If the player is unable to hit all assigned numbers, their point total will be cut in half. The player with the highest score wins. The assigned numbers are 16, double ring, 17, 18, triple ring, 19, 20 and the bullseye.

All scores are kept electronically and are displayed in the right upper hand corner of the screen.

IN AND OUT RULE _____

If you choose to play a 301, 501 or 701 game mode, you will be asked for your choice on Open and Double Settings. Your choices are as follows:

OPEN IN, OPEN OUT

This means that the player can hit any number to begin and end the game.

OPEN IN, DOUBLE OUT

This means that the player can hit any number to begin but must hit a double ring to end the game.

DOUBLE IN, DOUBLE OUT

This means that the player must hit a double ring to begin and end the game.

HOW TO EXECUTE YOUR SHOTS

When the player's turn is up, a dart will appear at the bottom of the dartboard and a lighted box will shift back and forth below the dart. Press the cursor left and right to determine the position you want to start from. Watch the gauge moving back and forth. This gauge controls the curve of the dart. Stop the indicator at the angle you wish to throw the dart. Press the "A" button to lock these settings.

Next an angle gauge will appear by the player's hand on the bottom of the screen. The gauge will be moving up and down. This gauge determines the aiming arc of the dart. Press the "A" button to lock this setting.

The power gauge behind the player on the right bottom will begin to move up and down. The higher the lighted bars, the more powerful your throw will be. Press the "A" button to lock this setting.

At this point, the game will throw the dart. You can see the dart in with 2-D and 3-D views.

TRICK SHOTS

Every nail thrower has his trick shots. MAGIC DARTS has some trick shots too!!

See if you can answer the following questions:

1. Have you been able to figure out which characters have a trick shot?
2. Do you know what their trick shots are? Try missing at the extra player watch mode for hints.
3. Do you know how to make those trick shots?
4. Have you ever seen a fly buzzing around the board?
5. Have you ever hit the fly when it's buzzing around? You will be surprised.

*Remember . . . PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT!
